SOUTHERN ADVANTAGES.

The Cheapest Lands in the South Are as Productive as California's Lands Out West.

And Homes in Dixie are Any Price Are Much Cheaper than Free Homesteads on the Union-provided Plains.

FAVORABLE COMPARISONS.

Now that the rush for lands in the Cherokee strip is over, those who have been fortunate enough to secure a section will have plenty of time to reflect on the mistake they have made.

There is no timber, no minerals, no natural resources whatever out of which the homesteader can hope to have a bare support, to say nothing of the future competency. The only industry that will bring him any returns is agriculture, and in this regard the strip possesses not one single advantage that can not be found in the lands for sale in the state of Kentucky.

Dr. Buchanan, of Hardin county, has protracted meeting at the Baptist church here, but owing to sickness and other unfavorable circumstances, he closed after three days.

Rev. C. C. Clegg has returned home from Cave City. Report good meetings there and at Dyers, Ky. He is now in Daviess county attending the Owensboro hillside convention.

Mr. Mat Jarboe, of Glendale, was here Sunday at his mother's.

He reported that he has sold out at Glendale and will go to business here again.

His friends will give him a cordial welcome.

Mr. Jim Jarboe and family left this week for Texas, in which state they will make their home. They were accompanied by three of our young men, LaFoy, Poole, and John Youngins and Joe Whetstone.

Let us take the best sugar lands of the country, and the best sugar lands of supervision, ergo, handled for and sold as the most profitable for investments of any in the country. The report of the United States Experimental Station, near Schuyler, Nebraska, shows that, with all the wealth and hired skill of the United States Government to back up the sugar lands, the average cost of an acre of sugar lands, including transportation, foots up $52.2 and the average value of products per acre was $63.20, leaving just $11 net profit per acre. This remember, was under all the aid the Government could render in the way of skill and money.

In this case, this take was done by colored people, born and reared in slavery, in the sugar lands of Louisiana. One is a female, Mary Walker by name, of St. Mary parish. From seven acres of land is sold to the factory 200 tons of cane for $300 and a man is paid $300. Of course, the lordly planter, with capital to back them, can beat these figures a long way, but they are given to show what a poor man can do in the South.—The Traileus.

Tobacco In Louisville.

It puts $100,000 Daily in That City.—$25,000,000 Annually.

In Kentucky.

It is a fact, though not particular well-known, that the present movement of the local tobacco market calls into active circulation each business day in this city from $75,000 to $100,000 in actual currency. Since it is a fact that the money comes from all parts of the country to Louisville, as a recognized tobacco center, to liquidate the tobacco crops of Kentucky and its sister states. As an active, large money circulation is what is wanted just at present, it is logical to conclude that the tobacco market, as well as other lines of business or trade indirectly, will profit greatly and land material assistance in re-establishing confidence.

SOUTHERN ADVANTAGES.

VIEW TODAY HOW IT'S DONE.

The Cheapest Lands in the South Are Productive as "Cotton" Lands Out
West.And Homes in Dixie at Any Price
Are Much Cheaper than Free Homesteads on the Unimproved Plains.

FAVORABLE COMPARISONS.

Now that the rush for lands in the Cherokee strip is over with, those who have been fortunate enough to secure a quarter section will have plenty of time to reflect on the mistake they have made.

There is no timber, no minerals, no natural resources whatever out of which the homesteaders can hope to make a living. They have no knowledge or culture competency. The only industry that will bring him any returns is agriculture, and in this regard the strip possesses not one single advantage that can not be found in the South for less money and labor. Before agriculture can even be started, the land must be improved. The cost of the improvements necessary to build a house and fence in that treeless region will run the cost of the homestead's above that of a much more desirable one in the south. Not one single thing can be grown there that can not be produced with equal facility in the cheap lands of the South. It has been an unsuccessful investment, and every one who has invested the money considers that as far as profit in the manufacture of lumber is concerned, the South offers better indications than any other section, not excepting the Pacific slope.Now it is in order to make a comparison of the merits of Southern and Western lands, cheap lands for agricultural purposes.

Let us take the best sugar lands of Nebraska that, under Government supervision, were heralded for and wide as the most profitable for investments of any in the country. The report of the U. S. Sugar Commission, Dr. George Schuyler, Nebraska, shows that the United States Government to back up the sugar-making experiments, that the average cost of cultivation of an acre of sugar beet, including transportation, foots up $2.22, and the average value of product per acre is $6.20, leaving just $1 net profit per acre. This, remember, was under all the aid the Government could render in the way of skill and money.

In contrast to this what was done by colored people, born and reared in slavery, in the sugar lands of Louisiana. One is a female, Mary Walker, by name, of dark skin, with a complexion hardly darker than the faded, 200 tons of cane or $50 and made a net profit of $32. Robert Haines, a colored man of the same parish raised 20 tons of cane on twelve acres and netted $30. Of course, the lordly planters, with capital to back them, can beat Jules figures a long way, but they are given to show what a poor man can do in the South.—

Davy, Frank's son, his sister in Davy county.

Mr. Frank Clark will take charge of Mr. Jim Jarboe's farm.

Dr. McJulian is improving our village by building a new stable.

Mrs. Jim Rhodes visited her sisters at Glendale a few days since.

Another fact in connection with tobacco, worth of note at this time, and interestingly interesting, is that the tobacco market for the annual product of the state of Kentucky represents, in round numbers, $25,000,000. This has been the average estimate now for several years past.

Louisville Times.

Mrs. Lucas has moved to the house recently vacated by Mrs. Blankenship.

Mr. Sam Henning, of West View, was at Mr. Alford's Hunt's Sunday.

Lillie Catchow is very low with typhoid fever. Her sister is here from Harned.

Little Vernon, son of Mrs. Ann Bruce, is very ill with typhoid fever and is not expected to live.

Court was well attended here this week. A full attendance of Blackstones is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Dowell.

Mrs. Ann Bruce made a visit to Millwood recently. Miss Bradley, of that town, returned home with her.

Mrs. Ned Cannon entertained Misses Mittie Frazee, Lissie McDaniels, Dora Hines, and their cousin, Miss Kate Jette, of Paducah, who is here visiting relatives.

Rev. B. C. Hargan, of Hardin county, began protracted meeting at the Baptist church here, but owing to sickness and other unfavorable circumstances, he closed after three days.

Rev. B. C. Cundiff has returned home from Cave City. Reports good meetings there and at Dover, Ky. He is now in Davy county attending the Owensboro District holiness convention.

Mr. Mattie James, of Glendale, was in Louisville last week. It is reported that he has sold out his drug store and will go into business here again. His friends will give him a cordial welcome.

Mr. Sam Kendall, of Atwoodville, was called home last week to attend the sick bed of his mother.

Mrs. Joe Carlton of Hawesville, who visited Mrs. Mattie Roberts last week, returned home.

Mrs. Will Roberts and children, of Louisville, were guests of Mattie Roberts several days last week.

The remains of Mr. John D. Roberts were brought here from Texas and interred at Buck Grove last Sunday.

Mr. Tom Brown, of Mayfield, was in town last week looking after the interests of the firm Brown & Brown, of which he is a member.

Mr. Jim Jarboe and family left this week for Texas, in which state they will make their home. They were accompanied by three of our young men, Lafayette Poole, John Quiggin and Joe Wheately.

Tobacco In Louisville.

It Puts $100,000 in Circulation Daily In That City—$25,000,000, Annually

In Kentucky.

It is a fact, though not particularly well-known, that the present movement of the local tobacco market calls into active circulation each business day in this city from $75,000 to $100,000 day in active circulation, and that this is the largest market for the past ten days. This money comes from all parts of the country, from Louisville, as a recognized tobacco center, to liquidate the tobacco crops of Kentucky and its sister states. As an active, large money circulation is what is wanted just at present, it is logical to assume that the tobacco farmer, the wholesaler, the tobacco merchant as well as all other lines of business or trade indirectly, will profit thereby and lend material assistance in re-establishing confidence.Another fact in connection with tobacco, worth of note at this time, is that the tobacco farmer, in his capacity as a producer of the annual product of the state of Kentucky represents, in round numbers, $25,000,000. This has been the average estimate now for several years past.Mrs. Lucas has moved to the house

DOMINO, THE RACE HORSE.

He is the greatest Four-year-old Racer America has produced.

Below is a picture of the Keene Bros. Domino, the racer who made for his owners this year $176,739, the largest sum ever made by one horse in one year in this country.

Domino has never beaten. Whatever he may do or not do as a maturer horse, his record as a 2-year-old will probably not be equaled. He is sure to come. It will not surprise anybody that Domino is Kentucky born and bred. He was foaled on the farm of Major B. C. Thomas of Lexington. Vicksburg people have made him a corner of the Kentucky horse breeder this year. Domino's sire was Hinway, his dam Mamie Grand, a daughter of Empire, and a half-sister to such horses.

It will be interesting to know that as a yearling Domino was not considered very promising. It was said of him that he was too small and his bones were weak. All the same they got him. They brought the winnings of the Keene stable this year to the top of the pile. Domino's trainer is William Lakeland; his rider usually Taryl.

Beef Cattle Outlook.

The immense floods of cattle-steers, cows, heifers, bulls, calves, and all, that have been thrown upon the market during the past year or two can mean nothing else than that the ranges are being rapidly depopulated of cattle. It must be a practically unlimited supply that could stand the drain of the past two years without having its power for turning the tide of the market lessened. If merely the increase were being marketed, there would be small hope of any betterment in prices until the demand increased materially. The supply from the market stock on the ranges would be a constant one and would serve to hold prices down.

The fact is, however, that everything is going. The lessened supply has not been made plainly manifest yet, for the reason that the breeding stock has been reduced, and the market for breeding stock must soon begin to run short, which will directly result in a shortage of steers also, for the marketing of cattle is now a business of a very large scale by the number that she may have raised had she remained upon the range. How soon this condition of affairs will be realized is a question for the best, but it is impossible to say. There are other things that must be taken into consideration in determining the future of the cattle trade.

The supply of cattle on the farms of Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa and the other western states has rather increased than diminished during the past year, and the supply of cattle from these farms is improving. The fact that there is but a small margin of profit in raising cattle, especially at the present time, is well known to all.

Every farmer must have a certain number of cattle to pasture off his waste land in summer, and to eat up his rough feed in winter.

It is difficult to keep whether there is any particular pay in it or not.

The supply from this source will be a constant one and will increase with the number of cattle that have been produced.

The outlook then is about this: The supply of range cattle is heavy, marketing of which at certain seasons is a source of great trouble.

Prices are determined by the condition of pasture, tends to depress prices and at best to render them very tickle, being lessened and will in time cease to have any marked influence on the market.

On the other hand, the supply of cattle for the market is improving.

The lessened supply is not likely to be a man in the cattle business must change the close competition of these herds for a long time—probably forever.

Cattle can be raised on western farms in such great numbers that scarcely any condition of affairs can drive prices up to the pitch of nine or ten years ago, and cattlemen will not expect to see such figures. The market then that one can hope for is a steady market at fairly remunerative prices, and they must go to work to win the idea of raising cattle more cheaply rather than of receiving double present prices—Exchange.

Christmas in Cloverport.

MERCHANTS DO A SURPRISINGLY LARGE HOLIDAY BUSINESS.

The Town is Crowded With Strangers, and Money Seems To Be as Plentiful as Limestone Rocks.

DRUNKEN ROWS AND FIGHTS

As a result of Christmas in Cloverport every day is likely to be a satisfying and eventful one. Of all occupations the merchants did a larger business than ever was known before. Those who made large preparations for the holidays and laid in large stocks of Christmas novelties, sold out clean, and on Christmas morning, you could not buy a basket of fruit or a toy hardly in the entire city.

On Christmas morning, Christmas eve, there were more people here than ever known since "the evening and the morning were the first day."

People began to arrive early in the morning and soon the stores and the streets were crowded with strangers.

They were exchanging produce and cash for Santa Clause outfit, and herbs and candies, and the like.

People began to arrive from eight o'clock a. m. till midnight.

Chronicle calamity howlers, who had stationed themselves in favorable positions to draw unfavorable comparisons with this and former holiday seasons were soon put to flight, and no attention was paid to them.

The news has interviewed the prominent merchants of the town and without an exception everyone expresses himself as highly pleased and perfectly satisfied with the result.

When a few days ago you saw doubt and anxious faces, you now see radiant and smiling countenances, and the general business has come to everybody, and it goes to prove that, whatever may be the conditions elsewhere, there are no "hard times" in the vicinity of Cloverport.

The farmers not only have to sell but they have money besides, and when they have it need not they will spend it.

The novelty merchants are not the only ones that did a good business, for it is evident that the saloons were thriving Saturday.

Not everybody, but a great many got on large caliber'd "jags" and at times the scenes in the street were not only disgraceful, but disgusting. There were no serious difficulties, but drunken rows were numerous, and the saloons were the scenes of many of pranks and obscenities that surprised everybody, and it goes to prove that, whatever may be the conditions elsewhere, there are no "hard times" in the vicinity of Cloverport.

Not everybody, but a great many got on large caliber'd "jags" and at times the scenes in the street were not only disgraceful, but disgusting. There were no serious difficulties, but drunken rows were numerous, and the saloons were the scenes of many of pranks and obscenities that surprised everybody, and it goes to prove that, whatever may be the conditions elsewhere, there are no "hard times" in the vicinity of Cloverport.

The farmers not only have to sell but they have money besides, and when they have it need not they will spend it.

The novelty merchants are not the only ones that did a good business, for it is evident that the saloons were thriving Saturday.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE.

We are authorized to announce that ELIJAH M. CLEVELAND is a candidate for County Judge, subject taking office on December 31.

We are authorized to announce that JOSEPH M. MULLEN is a candidate for County Judge, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

FOR COUNTY CLERK.

We are authorized to announce that JOHN D. WHEELER is a candidate for County Clerk, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

FOR JAILER.

We are authorized to announce that J. STUART DUNDEEN is a candidate for Jailer of Breckinridge County, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

"They are wise

And fall;
But wiser yet
Are they, you bet,
Who never let up
At all."

JOHN P. Hopkins, a Democrat, has been elected Mayor of Chicago.

A new Atlantic cable will be laid between Ireland and Nova Scotia next spring.

JUDGE SAMUEL DEHAVEN, who died recently at Laramie, Ky., left an estate valued at $500,000.

It is said that irregularities amounting to $1,000,000 have been discovered in the New Custom House.

A New Jersey man has threatened to kill Congressman Roger Q. Mills because of his vote on the Silver Bill.

The campaign for county offices is about to open in Hancock. Mr. R. Y. BROWN leads the list for County Judge.

WHITING women are becoming as numerous in the United States as Georgia electric girls were a few years ago.

A New York and New Jersey syndicate is acquiring large tracts of cool and timber lands in Morgan and Elliott counties of this state.

GEO. JOHN B. GORDON, United States Senator from Georgia, will deliver his famous lecture, "The Last Days of the Confederacy" at Hopkinsville, today.

TRINITY is to be another Judicial district in this state in which a United States Court will be held. The new district is to accommodate the eastern portion of the state.

Trix commissions of nine presidential postmasters in this State expire next month. The news is from Washington that these positions will be had by Democrats, and that all they need to do is to apply.

THE NEWS hopes that something may turn about in a short time to lighten the financial straits among the people in this section. A good farmer said the other day that the Democrats had to bear the brunt of the whole business, whether they were in any wise responsible for it or not.

AN ANNUAL report of Hon. John G. CANNON, Secretary of the Treasury, was transmitted to Congress yesterday. It says there is a deficit of $8,000,000 to meet the expenses of the government. He suggests several courses of action by which the deficiency may be met, one of which is an increase of ten cents a gallon on whisky.

ANOTHER Pennsylvania manufacturer has come out for free trade. Whether or not absolute free trade will be best for this country causes various and sundry difficulties. The author is certain, there is too much tariff protection in a tax which the people have to pay, whether they are in any wise responsible for it.

spring, to honor the memory of both parents, the object being to raise by volunteer contribution, from the people of Maine, a fund for the erection of a statue to the memory of James G.

Blain. Up to a few days ago they had procured $115, and $100 of this amount had been given by a New York Democrat, the representative of Maine. This is a specimen of the memory dear in which those high-spirited (?) people hold their great men.

THE Louisville Commercial, that

UNIONTON is just now one of the few towns in Kentucky that is enjoying a boom. This is caused by the erection and operation of several large distilleries. The Union local option is popular. It is full of people who have no houses to live in, and some families have resorted to tents. There are no idlers—everybody is at work and making good wages. Uniontown has our congratulations.

BROWN'S IRON BOTTLES.

It will contain 1000 bottles, each bottled in medecine in medecine.

The Courier-Journal found a hand-some colored supplement with its last Sunday's edition.

PRESIDENT Cleveland and Secretary of State are spending their holidays duck hunting with the boys.

The Planter's Home at Owensboro has gone into the hands of a receiver. Liabilities $12,000, assets $8,000.

A Daviess county grand jury has indicted the "Texas" road for a failure to comply with the separate coach act.

P. S. BARKER, of Bardstown, Ky., the wealthiest man in Nelson county, is dead. He leaves an estate valued at $200,000.

Consumers who wait for their announcements inserted should not fail to accompany same by a $5 bill if they want them to appear promptly.

Some of the large cities are providing for their unemployed labor by giving them work on their streets, breaking rock at 10 cents an hour.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—That in the palmy days of Jesse James and his gang the science of train and bank robbery was only in its infancy.

A CRANE by the name Schwartz attempted to kill Mayor Tyler, of Louisville, about 4 o'clock Tuesday. He is reported to having the city limits extended.

The new council ought to provide a sinking fund for the redemption of the shop bonds when they fall due. Five years have already passed and not a dollar is laid up for that purpose.

Two well-known traveling men said in the presence of the News the other day, that there were no better or prompter paying merchants in the state than the merchants in Covington.

Young Methiobie of Lexington, is a candidate for dogcatcher of the State Senate with good chances, he claims, of being elected. The Senate couldn't get a more dutiful or attentive public servant.

Covington squalor is plentiful in and around the public square and railroad street of parkers in that neighborhood.

It is hinted that Young Young was up there and laid in a big supply and is applying his friends bountifully.

BRECKENRIDGE county will not have a vote in the caucus to name the next speaker of the Kentucky House, but she will stand on the outside and send up as a yell for Carroll any on the inside Breckinridge county is for the Hon. A. Carroll.

The merchants of this town, especially those who advertise in the News, say that business will go on even better than last year. They sell out their stocks cleaner and took in more ready cash than last year. The same is true of our out-of-town advertisers.

TODAY government is now spending $6,000,000 a month more than she earns or a sum of $72,000,000 a year. The Wilson tariff bill will add $12,000,000, so there will be a deficit of $12,000,000 which will have to be provided for from some source. The question now is how to raise this revenue.

MAYOR elect Barry will have to work some sort of a scheme to get money enough to meet the ordinary expenses of the city government. The outgoing council turns over an empty treasury, and a tax rate too low to meet current expenses. They got too good towards the wind up.

This issue contains the announcement of Mr. Miller, as a candidate for County Judge. Mr. Miller, at the present time, is a Justice of the Peace in the Cloverport Magisterial district. He is a good Democrat and a clever gentleman as well, and will no doubt run here in this section of the country.

Covington is fast retaking herself in the line of good hotel accommodations. The new Heyer House is all that one could wish for in neatness, cleanliness and something good to eat. The wear traveler needn't pass this town when he wants to rest his tired bones or tempt his failing appetite. We have two good Hotels in any town of our pretensions.

THAT was an excellent service at the Elm street Methodist church Sunday evening. The sermon, the singing and the music were worth coming miles to hear. The organ and piano performed on the violin and cello and the soft string strains reach heavenward.

The most astonishing thing to us is that more people do not turn out to these services. Whether you are sain or sinner you could not spend an hour more profitably.

THE law under the head of "Road and Passways" is important to the public, and we quote from Chapter 222, section 20 as follows: "The Fiscal Court at its first regular term in 1841, and every two years thereafter, shall appoint a county supervisor of roads, or such district supervisors as may be deemed necessary, who shall hold that office for a term of two years from the date of their appointment, and until their successors are appointed and qualified. Any vacancy occurring in the office of supervisor or overseer may be filled by the County Court, until the next regular term, when the new supervisor or overseer shall be appointed by the judge of the County Court, for the faithful performance of his duties. The Fiscal Court shall make the supervisor or overseers a reasonable allowance for services."
